NEWS & ACHIEVEMENTS

Delgado Business Students Can Now Complete Degrees Online Faster Than Ever Before

Students in Delgado Community College's Business Studies Department now have a new, faster, and money-saving way to complete degrees in accounting, business administration or business and management. Beginning in the Fall 2017 semester, Delgado business students can complete their degree fully online with 8-week sessions, and possibly complete the program sooner. There will be two 8-week sessions each semester and the student can take three courses each session. A student beginning in Fall 2017 and taking three classes per session including summer could graduate in December 2018.

Delgado Business Studies' accounting and business and management programs are designed for those interested in pursuing a career where a two-year degree can lead to career advancement and success. The department's business administration program is designed to transfer and has articulation agreements with most local universities.

New Orleans City Business Readers Name Delgado Best Two-Year College in Region

In a new reader survey conducted by the editors of New Orleans City Business, Delgado Community College has been named "Best Two-Year College" in the Greater New Orleans Region. "City Business' 2017 Reader Rankings survey generated responses from over 2,300 business professionals from across the New Orleans area," wrote Natalie Chandler, editor of New Orleans City Business. "We wanted to know from informed professionals which organizations best support our business community."

The survey focused on eight sectors of the New Orleans economy that are of key interest to business professionals. In addition to Education, these sectors included Design and Construction, Finance/Investments and Insurance, General Business, Health Care, Information Technology, Real Estate and Hospitality and Tourism.

The Education sector is further broken down into categories for each level of education in the New Orleans region. Delgado Community College was the winner in the "Best Two-Year College" category. For more information, see the June 23-July 6 issue of New Orleans City Business, or go to neworleanscitybusiness.com.
