Ochsner Center for Nursing and Allied Health

Delgado has partnered up with Ochsner Health to provide students opportunities to pursue meaningful careers in healthcare in the state-of-the-art Ochsner Center for Nursing and Allied Health.

A ribbon cutting ceremony was held April 5 to officially open the building which is located on Delgado's City Park Campus.

Together, Delgado and Ochsner will leverage the new nursing and allied health center to meet critical workforce demands, provide more opportunities for local graduates in high-wage careers, and proactively pursue the career development of minority and disadvantaged students.

The Ochsner Center for Nursing and Allied Health brings the Delgado Charity School of Nursing and most Allied Health programs under one roof for the first time. In addition to RN and LPN programs, the building will host Radiologic Technologist, Respiratory Therapy, Physical Therapy Assistant, Occupational Therapy Assistant, Surgical Technologist, Medical Laboratory Technologist, and Pharmacy Technologist programs.

Delgado is the leading educator for healthcare professionals in the state of Louisiana, graduating the highest number of employed healthcare workers.

Program Spotlight American Sign Language Interpreting

Happy Deaf History Month!

Here at Delgado, we offer an ASL program that utilizes a sociolinguistic and cultural approach to the instruction of sign language. This approach best models the language used both formally and informally by the Deaf community and is incorporated into all educational components of the ASLS curriculum. The Associate of Arts (AA) degree in American Sign Language Interpreting provides academic instruction in the field of sign language interpreting. The program prepares interpreters to work in a variety of entry level settings with a diverse population. Upon completion of the degree, students are prepared to sit for the national certification knowledge examination and to seek advanced degrees. People established in their career generally earn between $ 51,630 and $ 63,164 per year (source: salary.com).
