Program Spotlight

Criminal Justice

For students whose career interests are in law enforcement, law, and corrections, Delgado's Associate of Arts Degree program in Criminal Justice provides preparation for direct entry into the workforce, for transfer to four-year colleges, and for professional advancement.

Delgado's Criminal Justice program is dedicated to providing students with the best possible education and the tools necessary to prepare students to enter a diverse workforce in a multi-cultural, service-dominated career in the criminal justice profession, including law enforcement, corrections, private security, juvenile justice, and probation and parole.

Our program offers knowledge, education, experience, and guidance in the criminal justice system, and the social, psychological, and cultural aspects associated with the justice system such as the future of policing and building community trust and relationships.

Graduates will be prepared to seek the following career options:

- Corrections
- Law Enforcement
- Legal Assisting
- Private Security
- Fire and Police Dispatch

Salary: Those majoring in Criminal Justice can make anywhere from $29,730 to $81,490 annually.*

Student Services Spotlight

Recruitment & Outreach

Recruitment and Outreach has numerous services that are offered both virtually and in person for those who are considering attending Delgado Community College. We provide resources for counselors and community partners who work with students such as information about admission, funding your education, programs of study, and transferrable courses. Both individual and group campus tours are offered.

We bring services to you. Recruitment and Outreach offers Delgado On Site, which is a college transition program. The program allows students to begin the college enrollment process before leaving high school. Services include application assistance, FAFSA assistance, career exploration, and group advising. We also include assistance with college access, choosing a major, and time management and study skills.

Recruitment and Outreach hosts various events such as preview days, family nights, workshops, and program info sessions.
